Leaving a Legacy Jun 05 2020 That which distinguishes a Christian family from any other family is unfortunately becoming virtually indistinguishable. According to Barna Research, the divorce rate in the Christian church exceeds that of the world. Notwithstanding this sad statistic, many Christian families struggle to carve out an identity in the day-to-day pressures of life. This book, based on our workshops most of the same title, offers the family seven biblical foundations on which to build. Most importantly, this book makes a few underlying presuppositions about the reader.We assume you, the reader, are a committed Christian and that you are daily yielding your life to the lordship of Jesus Christ. This particular book is for families who want to grow deeper in relationship with the Lord and each other. Like us you are ready to grow and to stretch a bit. This book may be a bit hard-hitting at times. We attempt to be transparent and hope you will be likewise with be true to yourself. We grow when our lives are watered with the truth. We can only find truth as we accept lies as deception. We may knock down some sacred altars. Thus, we do not attempt to soft-soap real issues. We ask you to examine things that you may do as a matter of tradition that may need to be altered. These are not inherently wrong or harmful, but some embrace these traditions as the Word of God itself. For instance, most Sunday morning services begin at 11 a.m. not because the Word of God commands us but because the United States used to be an agrarian culture and church service was timed to coincide with the completion of milking the cows, morning chores, etc. While tradition is important in our communities it must never be elevated above truth and thus growth.These foundations are not just trite principles but are issues we have seen in our counselling. We hope it challenges you to make your family biblical, sound and effective, so that we can draw people to the King of kings! We also want you to know daily we are still challenged to work each of these principles in our own lives and hope you enjoy coming with us on the journey. Are you ready? Let's go!

900 Miles from Nowhere Apr 15 2021 It was on the vast American prairie that people from around the world seized the opportunity for personal and economic freedom promised by free land. Traveling across oceans and continents, these hard-nosed, pragmatic people began arriving in the 1860s with shovels and plows, convinced they were part of something important. They were. Putting hand to plow and breaking the sod for their first crude homes, these hardy settlers left an indelible thumbprint on American history and on the country's character. Though many of their ventures ended in failure, their risks permanently enhanced the nation's diversity and its sense of independence and resourcefulness. 900 Miles from Nowhere is the heartfelt chronicle of the daily lives and personal struggles of Great Plains homesteaders, told in their own voices through many never-before-published letters, diaries, and photographs. Believing absolutely that they could control their own destiny, they bet everything they owned, even in the face of insurmountable obstacles. This is the remarkable and ever-inspiring story of life on the grasslands that stretch from Canada to Mexico.

Layton Jan 13 2021 Layton was settled in 1850 by pioneers in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. An outgrowth of Kaysville, Layton separated in 1902 following a 20-year legal battle. The city incorporated in 1920. The Layton Sugar Plant opened in 1915, and the town was an agricultural and ranching hub until 1941, when the United States entered World War II. In less than 10 years, by 1950, Layton's population had tripled, mainly because of Hill Field, a US Air Force maintenance base. Today, Layton is the largest city in Davis County and a regional retail center, anchored by the Layton Hills Mall. It is well known for its "Restaurant Row;" Commons Park, which boasts an extensive collection of lighted animal figures during the holidays; the Ed Kenley Amphitheater; the Adams Canyon trail; and much more.
